Welcome to METRANS On the Move, a weekly transportation newsletter produced by students. This week we feature a student perspective on INUF research, PSR partner UCLA’s TRB reception, and numerous opportunities for engagement and employment. We greatly appreciate you, our reader, and hope you enjoy this newsletter.

We invite contributions from throughout the transportation community of both content and original articles. Contact me or any member of our student team to share your events, opportunities, news, and stories on this METRANS platform and reach an audience of thousands of transportation enthusiasts like you!

UCLA Hosts 25th Annual TRB Reception
By Henry Phipps, UCLA MURP 2018

On January 9, 2018, the UCLA Institute of Transportation Studies and Lewis Center for Regional Policy Studies hosted their 25th annual reception at the Transportation Research Board Annual Meeting (TRB). The reception, held at Busboys and Poets, gave faculty, alumni, students, and friends of UCLA’s Luskin School of Public Affairs the chance to convene after the third day of conference sessions. California will put 5 million electric cars on the road by 2030, Gov. Jerry Brown says

California Gov. Jerry Brown wants to put 5 million electric cars on the state’s roads by 2030. Brown announced the new goal in his State of the State speech this week, and formalized the target in an executive order issued Friday. “This executive order aims to curb carbon pollution from cars and trucks and boost the number of zero-emission vehicles driven in California,” Brown said in a statement. U.S. Road Safety Laws Lag, While Fatalities Climb

Vehicle-related mortality is an increasingly urgent public health concern. It is the second-leading cause of accidental death in America, after drug overdoses. Yet state legislatures aren’t keeping pace with necessary measures to curb the toll of deaths and injuries, according to a traffic safety group. Read more here.

2018 PSR Research Seminar
Agglomeration in Southern California
Wednesday, January 31, 2018, 12:00 pm to 1:30 pm
USC Ralph and Goldy Lewis Hall (RGL) 100

Speakers
Peter Gordon
Professor Emeritus - USC Price School of Public Policy
John Cho
Senior Regional Planner - SCAG

Prosperity and economic growth require robust specialization and exchange. This means the formation and maintenance of numerous complex supply chains. These are emergent and include supply chains for things and supply chains for ideas. The former involves transactions; the latter can be via transactions and/or realized positive externalities. Favorable networking and location opportunities are significant as these choices are made. Flexible land markets can facilitate the availability of such opportunities. Access to pools of human capital is clearly beneficial but the ability to tailor access to the peculiar requirements of the firm is even better. Detailed firm location (and co-location) data for various sectors for the Los Angeles metropolitan areas are analyzed to support our claims. We estimate Ripley-k functions and consider differences by industry as well as firm size. We pay special attention to co-location of ‘tech’ and ‘venture capital’ sectors.

Transportation Network Companies: Challenges and Opportunities for Airport Operators
January 31, 2018, 11:00 am to 12:30 pm Pacific Time

TRB will conduct a webinar that features research from the Airport Cooperative Research Program (ACRP)’s Synthesis 84: Transportation Network Companies: Challenges and Opportunities for Airport Operators.

This webinar will discuss how transportation network companies (TNCs) such as Uber and Lyft have become common providers of ground transportation at airports. The research summarizes the amount of revenue airports receive from TNCs and how TNCs are affecting airport operations and other businesses. Airport surveys show that terminology and signage for TNC customers across airports are inconsistent, that airport staff may need more resources to manage TNCs, and that this new mode is affecting how passengers use other important revenue sources such as public parking areas, other ground transportation operators, and rental cars.

UC Davis ITS Seminar
A Conversation about Platforms
Hemant Bhargava
Professor, Jerome and Elsie Suran Chair in Technology Management
Graduate School of Management, UC Davis
February 2, 2018, 1:40 pm to 3:00 pm Pacific Time
1605 Tilia, Room 1103, West Village, UC Davis

Platforms, or technology-enabled business marketplaces, are transforming the way we think about business. For 200 years, business had been about creating large scale in various aspects and connecting them in a linear fashion: raw materials, parts and components, resources of production and transformation, distribution, etc., and using this large-scale structure to efficiently create and supply something of value to the customer. Today’s platform technologies change this in a fundamental way: business and customer value is created by enabling others to create and provide value – and then performing necessary tasks (such as discovery, matching, fulfillment, financial payments, trust etc.) to make it easy for this to happen. This new business model raises plenty of exciting research questions, some of which I have worked on and will present in this seminar.

Free TRB Webinar
Runway Protection Zone Risk Assessment Tool
February 5, 2018, 11:00 am to 12:30 pm Pacific Time

TRB will conduct a webinar that features research from the Airport Cooperative Research Program (ACRP)’s Research Report 168: Runway Protection Zones (RPZs) Risk Assessment Tool Users’ Guide.
The research helps airport operators evaluate the risk of an aircraft accident within an RPZ. Although RPZs are supposed to be clear of structures and people, it is still common for activities to occur within an RPZ for many reasons, and these reasons can be beyond the control of the airport operator. This webinar will discuss the development of the Runway Protection Zone (RPZ) Risk Assessment Tool and the risk assessment framework that serves as the basis for the tool, and the presenters will demonstrate the tool.

2018 USC Price Externship Program - For USC Price Students
March 12 - 16, 2018

The USC Price 2018 Externship Program is coming March 12-16, which is during your Spring Break! Externships offer you an extended “shadowing” opportunity, and provide real-world exposure to settings relevant to your current or desired area of study. In fact, 50% of students received an opportunity with their host site last year!

This program takes place during USC’s Spring Break, and, as a result, will ideally enable you to spend up to five days actively working and engaging at a host site. Student participation is open to undergraduates and graduates of the Price School of Public Policy.

If you are interested, please keep the following in mind:
1. Externships are not for credit nor are they paid.
2. You are responsible for transportation, lodging and other incidentals.
3. Your resume must be uploaded in PDF format to complete your RSVP.

Need to have a USC account to log in to check more information.

Transportation Technology Tournament
Applications Due February 15, 2018

The National Operations Center of Excellence (NOCoE) and the U.S. DOT ITS JPO PCB program announce a competition for students to work directly with state and local DOTs to solve real-world transportation problems utilizing ITS and TSMO solutions.

Student teams will assemble and work with a local or state agency to define a problem or challenge in their region, or choose to address one of the sample problems outlined below. After submitting an initial contest application identify the team and the problem or challenge, students will work with academic advisors to learn about potential ITS and TSMO solutions via online training programs outlined below. Teams will then utilize their experience, education, and new coursework to develop a solution or suite of solutions to directly address the originally defined problem. Students will submit their solutions via a proposal. Finalist teams will develop a presentation and then will be flown to the Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE) 2018 Annual Meeting in Minneapolis to give a live presentation in front of a panel of judges made up of leaders in the ITS and TSMO community.

Please feel free to contact Adam Hopps at ahopps@transportationops.org or phone (202-680-0091) with any questions in advance of submission.
Graduate students enrolled in Ph.D. programs in North America are encouraged to apply for the Eighteenth Benjamin H. Stevens Graduate Fellowship in Regional Science, administered by the North American Regional Science Council of the Regional Science Association International (NARSC-RSAI).
