Education and Careers in Transportation

Roxana Javid

Join Dr. Roxana Javid, Director of the Transportation Engineering Program at USC CEE, for an engaging seminar on "Education and Careers in Transportation"! With a rich background in transportation engineering and a commitment to fostering the next generation of professionals, Dr. Javid will share her insights on navigating this rapidly evolving field. As Los Angeles prepares for major events like the FIFA World Cup and Olympics, the need for skilled transportation experts is growing. In this seminar, Dr. Javid will explore essential resources to help you succeed, including job portals, workshops, networking opportunities, and organizations to join. Gain valuable advice and stay ahead in a dynamic industry with firsthand guidance from a leading expert in transportation research and education.
